

DAEMEN TODAY

SPRING 1998

ANNIVERSARY GALA FINALE & REUNION SET!

It's been 50 years since the Sisters of St. Francis realized their goal of creating a new opportunity in higher education for women, and made Rosary Hill College a reality.

A lot has happened since then; the College has seen four presidents, grown from 44 students to nearly 2000, and conferred nearly 10,000 diplomas – to graduates of both sexes. While non-denominational for more than 20 years, the College has nevertheless retained core values upon which it was established: excellence in teaching and learning, personal development of each student, and lifelong service to others.

On April 19, 1997, Daemen College began celebrating this very important milestone. With an anniversary theme of Tradition...Vision...Success, the College kicked off a year of campus events, and celebrity speakers. Coretta Scott King, who spent the last 50 years at the heart of the nation's civil rights movement, drew a capacity crowd to the opening ceremonies in Wick Center. Emphasizing the importance of sharing traditions, Mrs. King reflected on the central role learning and equality play in higher education, and in building a fair and just society.

1998 DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD

The Daemen College Alumni Association has selected Dolores Attea Sapienza '53 as the 1998 recipient of the Distinguished Alumni Award. Dolores received her Bachelors Degree in 1953 from Rosary Hill.

Dolores has been an active member of the community, involved as a Trustee of the Amherst Museum Regents Board, Past President of St. John Maron Board, as well as a member of the Executive Committee of the Altar & Rosary Society, and Chairperson of the Amherst Millennium Committee. She has also served as Chairperson of the Town of Amherst Heritage Committee, a member of Daemen College's Alumni Board of Governors, founding member of the Amherst Youth Board and Youth Chairperson of the Amherst & Village of Williamsville Old Home Days.

The award will be presented in Wick Center on the Daemen campus, Saturday evening, April 25th, during the 50th Anniversary Gala Finale & Reunion Weekend. Dolores will be honored at the Alumni Reunion Brunch on Sunday, April 26th.

A LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

We are observing an important milestone in the life of this College—its 50th anniversary. Rosary Hill became a reality in 1947, thanks to the hard work and perseverance of the Sisters of St. Francis. Building on academic excellence, innovative curriculum and strong leadership, this institution has become an integral part of Western New York, something we're very proud of. It is therefore important to everyone in the Daemen community that our many friends and supporters also be involved in our celebration.

Anniversary events have brought thousands of people on campus, many familiar with the College, but also, many who were not. There were opportunities to hear world-class speakers, such as Coretta Scott King, and Dan Rather; participate in a 5K run on a crisp, wintery day; attend theater; enjoy concerts and films; and take in all the sights and sounds of a carnival. This spring, we'll conclude our anniversary celebration on campus, April 25 and 26, with an antique car show, an evening of musical entertainment, an alumni reunion, and fireworks.

But even as the excitement surrounding these events subsides, we are moving forward with plans for the future. Together with the Board of Trustees, I am very pleased to announce the completion of an ambitious five-year strategic plan for the College. Many months in the making, the plan is open for review by all members of the Daemen community. It sets a range of academic and administrative goals to continue to foster academic excellence, and build a strong financial base.

In addition, we have begun a long-awaited restoration of Rosary Hall. The offices of Alumni Affairs and Admissions will make the new Rosary Hall their home, once work is completed later this year. I know all of us in the Daemen community will enjoy seeing this graceful building once again become a center of campus activity.

We've nearly completed an exciting year in Daemen history, and are rightfully proud. We've come a long way; but the best is yet to come.

CAMPUS NEWS

IT'S BEEN QUITE A YEAR!

The fall semester kicked off with a first ever weekend carnival. A 50th birthday party that succeeded, thanks to the volunteer efforts of students, faculty, administrators, and staff. The event drew friends, students, faculty, and alumni to the campus.

Joan S. Gunther, chair of the Graduate Division, Master's Physical Therapy Department, and Robert Gunther, chair of Daemen's Natural Science Department, take a break at the carnival.

A good time was had by all...

A carnival crowd on campus!

"Daemen College and Rosary Hill have been part of the Western New York community for 50 years, something we're very proud of. As we take a look back, we're also planning for the future. We're looking forward to continuing our partnership with Western New York."

Peter F. Hunt,
chairman of the Daemen Board of Trustees.

CBS NEWS ANCHOR DAN RATHER SPEAKS AT WICK CENTER

The 50th anniversary celebration brought Dan Rather, anchor of the CBS Evening News, on campus September 28. He spoke in Wick Center before an audience of nearly 2000 people – the largest such crowd in Daemen's history. Relaxed, displaying an engaging sense of humor, the veteran television journalist took those in attendance on a tour of broadcast news' past 50 years, then went on to speculate on what might be possible in the future. Citing the 1992 Gulf War, Rather pointed out CBS was able to be first to broadcast live from newly-liberated Kuwait because it had satellite technology that fit on the back of a jeep.

"We're still in the same decade, and we're now able to fit that same technology into a not very big suitcase," he said. "The day isn't too far off when we'll be able to fit the equipment necessary to broadcast live into a suit jacket."

Along with hi-tech electronics, Rather also wryly noted the importance to television news of a particular low-tech piece of equipment...the portable hair dryer.

RUN IN HONOR OF SLAIN DAEMEN GRADUATE

In November, more than 300 runners took part in the first annual Charles McDougald Memorial Run & Wellness Walk. Starting and finishing on the Daemen campus, the event honored the memory of Charles E. McDougald, a Buffalo police officer slain in the line of duty, and a 1985 Daemen graduate. The event raised over $2500 for a new scholarship fund named for Officer McDougald.

DAEMEN HIRES SALLY KUS AS WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL COACH

GRETCHEN GEGENFURTNER HIRED AS ASSISTANT COACH

As the Daemen College Women's volleyball team plans its second season, the Lady Warriors will be led by a Western New York coaching legend. Sally Kus, longtime coach of women's varsity volleyball at Sweet Home High School in Amherst, holds a National Federation of High Schools record for most consecutive wins - 292 - by a team of any sport, male or female. Under her tenure, the Sweet Home women's team won six consecutive state championships, from 1990-1996, and was named number one in the nation in 1991 by USA Today and Volleyball Monthly. In 1997, Kus was inducted into the Greater Buffalo Sports Hall of Fame, along with former Buffalo Bills quarterback Jim Kelly.

Kus compiled a total won-lost record of 792-29, while leading the Sweet Home women's varsity volleyball team to 20 consecutive league championships, and a ranking as best high school volleyball program ever by Volleyball Magazine. During her career at Sweet Home, more than 70 of her players were awarded NCAA Division I scholarships.

She was named National Federation of High Schools Coach of the Year in 1987, National Women's Sports Foundation Coach of the Year in 1993, and High School All-American Coach in 1992. Kus also coached women's volleyball in the Empire State Games from 1978-1991, winning 10 gold medals, and three silver. She remains a USA Volleyball national clinician, and has served as a Town of Amherst recreation commissioner since 1986. "I am thrilled that Sally Kus is coaching women's volleyball at Daemen," said Daemen director of athletics Don DelBello. "She's proven herself to be a truly great coach, and we're very proud to have her and Gretchen as our coaching team."

Gretchen Gegenfurtner, a former Sweet Home High School women's varsity volleyball standout, is assistant coach of the Daemen women's volleyball team. In 1992, as a senior, she led Sweet Home to victory at the New York Prep State Championship, and was named New York State Athlete of the Year. Also in 1992, she was selected as a Volleyball Monthly High School All-American, and chosen Most Valuable Player at the first-ever High School All-American Game, held in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She was, in addition, part of the team coached by Sally Kus ranked number one in the nation by USA Today in 1991.

The Daemen women's volleyball team begins its second season in August of this year.

It's OFFICIAL!

The Daemen College Nursing Honor Society has been accepted into Sigma Theta Tau, the international nursing honor society. The society is associated with some 400 colleges and universities in the U.S., Canada, Puerto Rico, South Korea, Taiwan, and Australia, and has more than 220,000 members. Sigma Theta Tau promotes nursing excellence, scholarship, and leadership.

To be eligible for a chapter, a college must have an established nursing program honor society, with at least 50 to 100 members. Dr. Leslie Nicoll, a reviewing representative from Sigma Theta Tau, evaluated Daemen's nursing program and honor society during a visit to the campus in March, 1997.

NEW PROGRAMS

NEW MASTER'S LEVEL PROGRAMS OFFERED IN NURSING, EDUCATION

Two new master's degree programs are now offered at Daemen: master of science in nursing, and master of science in special education. Both programs began accepting students last fall.

The master of science in special education is offered along two tracks. One is to students already possessing a bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree in a liberal arts concentration, such as history or English, who wish to work in special education. The second is to those with a degree already working in the field of education on a provisional basis, looking for a master's degree and permanent certification.

The Daemen master of science in special education is aimed at helping to fulfill a critical need for teachers in this field – in Western New York and nationwide. A U.S.

Department of Education report states that another 30,000 special educators will be needed across the country by the early 21st century.

Registered nurses who receive Daemen's master of science in nursing degree will be among the newest players in the health care arena – nurse practitioners. Licensed to diagnose, deliver comprehensive primary care and write prescriptions, nurse practitioners are employed by HMOs, hospitals, nursing homes, and private practices. In today's cost-conscious health care environment, they are money savers: delivering high-quality health care at a reasonable price.

Daemen's master of science in nursing degree is offered along three tracks: MS in nurse practitioner, Registered Nurse to MS and a post-master's certificate program, to accommodate nurses at every educational level. Current federal government reports project that by 2000, only half of the needed master's degree-trained nurses will be available nationwide.

Additional information on these new programs can be obtained from the Daemen Education and Nursing Departments

PA PROGRAM RECEIVES THREE-YEAR ACCREDITATION

The Daemen College physician assistant program has received an unusual three-year initial accreditation. The Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Educational Programs (CAA-HEP) generally grants two-year accreditation to new programs.

Members of the visiting committee conducting an on-campus evaluation last fall included physicians, members of the PA profession, representatives of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Academy of Family Practitioners, and the American Medical Association. Noted strengths of Daemen's PA program included well-organized implementation planning and strong institutional support. The Daemen College Physician Assistant Program is Western New York's newest PA program. PAs work in a variety of medical practices, providing high-quality, cost-effective patient care in nearly every medical subspecialty, including primary care, orthopedics, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, and psychiatry.

ROBERT C. SCHULER NAMED VICE PRESIDENT FOR EXTERNAL RELATIONS

The Daemen College development program has been strengthened and expanded through the addition of two new positions: vice president for external relations, and director of the annual fund. Leading development efforts, the vice president and the director will focus on building endowment and long-term financial security, guiding Daemen into its second half-century.

Robert C. Schuler was most recently vice chancellor for university development at Fayetteville State University, in Fayetteville, North Carolina. He has also held senior development positions at the University of Rochester and Cornell University. He began his position at Daemen last July.

Bob is a member of Daemen's senior management cabinet, and responsible for all operations at the College relating to external fund development. This includes recommending and implementing policies and procedures related to the development process; providing direction for all aspects of the Daemen development program, including marketing, public relations, the annual fund, and foundation relations; also, capital/major gift campaigns, and securing government and private sector funds for Daemen and its programs.

At Fayetteville State, Bob established the first annual fund program, increased gifts to the University by over 100 percent since 1994, raised funds for eight endowed scholarships, and instituted an annual Corporate Breakfast, which raised over $50,000 each year. While Director of University Development(s) at the University of Rochester, he managed all aspects of external fund development, and was responsible for implementation of the University's five-year, $375 million "Campaign for the '90s".

During more than 10 years as a director in regional public affairs with Cornell University, Bob executed programs for the Cornell Fund, Special Gifts, Planned Giving, and was responsible for raising more than $12 million during the Cornell Campaign.

Bob holds bachelor of science and master of science degrees from the State University College at Buffalo.

Leading development efforts, Daemen's vice president for external relations will focus on building endowment and long-term financial security for the College.

DEVELOPMENT NEWS

DeSales HATTENBERGER, NAMED DIRECTOR OF THE ANNUAL FUND

DeSales Hattenberger, OSF, director of the annual fund at Daemen, is in a very real sense, returning home again. Sister DeSales was most recently director of development for the Sisters of St. Francis. Prior to that, however, she served as director of admissions for her alma mater, Rosary Hill College, establishing the office at the request of the second president of the College, Sister Angela Canavan.

In her new position, Sister DeSales is responsible for all facets of the Daemen College Annual Fund, including establishing goals, recruiting an annual chair, organizing the phonathon, designing and implementing the personal solicitation phase of the fund, and overseeing design and publication of print materials. She will also establish a class agent program among Daemen and Rosary Hill alumni.

During a very successful tenure as development director for the Sisters of St. Francis, Sister DeSales increased the number of donors and prospective donors from two thousand to seventeen thousand, with contributions averaging approximately $500,000 annually. In addition, she set up and managed all aspects of the program, including designing the annual budget, creating a development council, and setting goals.

Sister DeSales holds a bachelor of arts degree in English from Rosary Hill College, and a master's degree in education from the State University of New York at Buffalo. She is a member of the National Society of Fund Raising Executives, the Western New York Planned Giving Consortium, and a Trustee of Stella Niagara Education Park.

JEANNE G. HEALY APPOINTED EVENTS DIRECTOR

Jeanne G. Healy '86 has been appointed to the newly-created position of events director at Daemen College. Jeanne will begin her new job July 1.

Jeanne's name and face are familiar to members of the Daemen community. For the past seven years, she has been director of alumni affairs, at a time of increasing involvement in alumni activities. Prior to that, Jeanne served as director of career development for the College. "This is a particularly exciting time to be at Daemen," she noted. "The 50th anniversary is creating a real feeling of community among alums from Rosary Hill and those who have graduated more recently. It's a milestone for the College, and celebrating these events together is important."

Jeanne brings non-stop optimism to the job, and works to connect people and programs. A real "people person", her gregarious nature makes her well-suited for managing college events. She will continue to report to the Office of External Relations.

ROSARY HALL

Rosary Hall, one of the quietest spots on campus, is about to become a center of activity once again. During the earliest years of Rosary Hill College, its halls were filled with the sounds of voices, footsteps, and ringing telephones. A full restoration is underway, which, when completed later this year, will return this centerpiece of the Daemen campus to its former elegance and vitality.

Sister Jeanne File, OSF, (right) conducted a videotaped tour of Rosary Hall in 1996. One of seven Sisters of St. Francis who founded Rosary Hill College in 1947, Sister Jeanne brought a unique, first-person perspective to the project.

Built in 1912 by Herbert Crouch, the graceful Georgian mansion served as a residence for many years before it was purchased by the Sisters of St. Francis in 1947 as the location for their new college. It immediately provided much-needed administrative and faculty offices, library and classroom space, a campus chapel, and dining areas. Later, in 1952, the first graduation ceremonies were held on the terrace behind Rosary Hall.

The College grew very quickly through the late 1940s and mid 1950s - building Daemen and Alverno Halls. Class space became more available, allowing Rosary Hall to serve mostly as an administration building. Following construction of Duns Scotus Hall in 1958, class and office space more than doubled. Rosary Hall remained in use, however, as a residence for the Sisters of St. Francis through 1996.

ROSARY HALL

Dear Friends,

It's truly good to be back working at Rosary Hill/Daemen College. My position as Annual Fund Director began in November 1997, around the birthday of Magdalen Daemen, foundress of the Sisters of St. Francis, after whom the college is named.

During this fiftieth anniversary year of the founding of the college, the annual fund office will focus on two important projects – the annual fund appeal along with fund raising for the renovation of Rosary Hall.

It's significant to me that the renovation of Rosary Hall was started during this anniversary year. There will be many opportunities for friends and alumni to join us as we refurbish this building. When restored, Rosary Hall will house offices for alumni, admissions, annual fund and external relations. It is through these departments that the college reaches out and strives to better serve the Western New York community.

We shall soon be contacting you with more information about our plans and inviting your participation in the renovation project.

You are always welcome to visit me at Daemen when you are in the neighborhood. The annual fund office is in Duns Scotus, room 110.

Sincerely,

Annual Fund Director

A LETTER FROM THE ALUMNI BOARD PRESIDENT

Dear Alumni:

As I near the end of my term as President of Daemen's Alumni Association, it is time to reflect on the events and progress that have taken place during the past two years.

We welcomed a new president, Dr. Martin J. Anisman, who has vigorously taken the lead to guide us toward renewing our traditions while blazing new trails. Both Rosary Hill and Daemen alumni are benefitting from the fruits of his outreach programs. Rosary Hall, the cornerstone of our college, is being refurbished to reflect the grandeur it once enjoyed. As a tribute to the alumni, the Alumni Affairs Office will be housed in the building along with Admissions.

The alumni who have contributed to our pledge of $50,000 are to be thanked and congratulated. We have now completed our commitment to assist with the funding for a lounge in the Business and Commerce Building. The donors are in the process of selecting a name for the lounge.

A special thanks to all of our alumni who have volunteered their time and energy to the 50th Anniversary Committee. Each project and representation from our alumni contributed greatly to the success of our 50th Anniversary Year. This year our '98 Reunion is scheduled for April 25-26th, coinciding with the gala finale of the year-long celebration of our golden anniversary.

Another success that must be noted is the marked increase in gifts received from our Annual Fund and phon-a-thon. This is an indication of increased interest in our college by many alumni, as well as friends of the college.

My thanks for the opportunity to serve as President of the Alumni Board of Governors. I encourage all of our alumni to join us at our meetings on the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 in Wick Center's Board Room.

Sincerely,

Our Distinguished Contributors

There are literally thousands of colleges and universities in the United States, some emphasize faculty research and graduate programs, while others are teaching and undergraduate-focused. Some are designed for part-time students, while others emphasize a computer experience. There are public and private, secular and religious, the list goes on.

Daemen College has a clear sense of its role in the field of higher education. As put forth in the Daemen College mission statement, our primary emphasis is "placed on excellence in teaching" while seeking to create lifelong learners. In doing so, the college remains committed to enabling students from all economic backgrounds to benefit from the Daemen experience. Therefore, several new scholarships have been created and existing scholarships increased. The students for whom they are intended, are as varied as the donors who provide the scholarship funds. Some criteria are geographic; some focus on academic interest and career aspirations; many are open to any deserving student.

One of the most difficult areas for college's in the 90's is helping students to pay for higher education. The majority of Daemen students come from families with incomes far below $45,000 and 96 percent receive financial aid. This year, a resident student needs about $15,500, much of which is comprized of loans. The average aid package is only about $6,250. We, at Daemen, are particularly concerned with our students' and graduates' college-related indebtedness. According to the Financial Aid Office, the average Daemen student begins his or her career with significant college-related debt.

As you know, Daemen has much to offer. The accomplishments of the last year help demonstrate the quality of both the college and its people. With your help, we will continue to be a recognized leader in Western New York higher education. Your gifts help assure that the Daemen College of tomorrow will be as vital and responsive as the Rosary Hill College of yesterday and the Daemen College of today. For this, we thank you.

Scholarships 1996-1997

SCHOLARSHIPS AT DAEMEN COLLEGE

Over the years a number of scholarship funds, which bear the name of the donor or persons designated by the donor, have been established. Such funds provide unique opportunities for donors to be directly involved in assisting and coming to know Daemen students. The donor is free to designate a preference for the major field or vocational goal for the scholarship recipient.

Endowment scholarships are awarded to students, as the donor designates, on the basis of scholarship and, if the donor requests, demonstrated financial need. An endowed scholarship will remain in perpetuity because only the income earned on the principal sum is awarded. Other scholarships are directly awardable. Further information on funding such scholarships and on funding annual scholarships can be obtained from the College's External Relations office.

Matching Gifts 1996-1997

MATCHING GIFTS: YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

The high quality of Daemen College life depends on the annual support of alumni, parents, and friends. Contributions fund scholarships, buy computers, provide library acquisitions, and invest in top-flight professors. One of the easiest ways to substantially increase your contribution to Daemen is through a matching gift.

Did You Know: Nearly 1,100 companies will match a gift to higher education. In 1996, United States colleges and universities received more than $160 million through corporate matching gifts! Many companies will double or triple an employee's donation.

Matching gifts are an easy way to increase a gift to Daemen, and they're frequently available for both current and retired employees.

It's easy to make a match! Simply obtain a matching gift form from your personnel office and send it with your gift.

*With Your Support, Daemen Will Continue to Attract Top Students . . .
& Produce Exceptional Graduates.*

Our thanks to these companies for providing matching gifts and the alumni and friends who arranged the match!

Marian Library Benefactors

THE DAEMEN ASSOCIATES

Daemen College Associates is an organization of community persons who sponsor special events to benefit the Daemen College Marian Library. Members recognize the value of higher education and the positive impact of Daemen in the community. Daemen College Associates activities include cocktail parties, recognition banquets, cookouts, and various social events.

Members have provided Marian Library with books, equipment, and furnishings, such as the reference/interlibrary loan desk, dedicated at the 1996 annual meeting. In addition, they have provided carpeting and renovation of the library's third floor audio visual room and current periodical room.

The Daemen College Associates also maintain a special recognition tree in Marian Library. A $100 contribution adds a brass leaf, with an engraved name. Honoring donors or family members, the leaves are always on display – a permanent part of the College.

Michael Civisca, a familiar face on the Daemen campus, is taking his singular vocal talent to new heights. Active on the Alumni Board of Directors, the Niagara Falls, New York native performed with the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra January 30, 1998, as part of a special night of Las Vegas music.

In show business parlance, the former Daemen business major "brought down the house", prompting a reviewer in the next day's Buffalo News to assert "Civisca's ready for the big time." Civisca's music, reminiscent of a different era, carries forward the vocal traditions of Frank Sinatra, Tony Bennett, and Dean Martin, among others. We'll be hearing more from him. A lot more.

ELIZABETH GEORGE IVERS '70 "ONE OF HOUSTON'S TEN MOST TALENTED WOMEN"

by Carla F. Sanbothe

Hard work and a strong support system have led Elizabeth George Ivers '70 on a path to success in the traditionally male-dominated waste service industry. As Market Vice President, North America, of Browning-Ferris Industries, Inc., Ivers is responsible for 500 million dollars in revenue, three thousand employees and all of BFI's solid waste activities, trucking, landfills, recycleries, medical waste and portable services in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, one of BFI's largest market areas.

BFI is a six billion dollar company, the second largest waste services company in North America. Its subsidiaries and affiliates employ approximately 43,000 employees involved in operations at 450 locations in North America and 320 locations outside of North America. Ivers reports directly to BFI's Chief Operating Officer and has been with BFI for 15 years. She praises BFI as "a fantastic company to work for, a company that supports me in service work to the community, both with company time and financially."

Ivers earned a history and government degree at Rosary Hill College, and an MBA from the State University of New York at Buffalo. By this time, she was working at a BFI subsidiary where her efforts caught the attention of BFI management and, in 1988, prompted her "big move" to Houston with her husband, Joseph and daughter, Marybeth. In 1983, Ivers asked to be considered for an operational management position. Not only was this unusual for a woman, but also seldom attempted by someone with a financial background.

As a newcomer to Houston, Ivers recognized the importance of networking. One of her first activities was participating in Leadership Texas, Class of 1990. Later she was part of Leadership America, Class of 1996. Iver's achievements were recognized nationally when, in 1995, she was named to the YWCA of New York's Academy of Women Achievers, a national honor for professional women. The Academy is comprised of professional women, who, through their example, demonstrate the leadership abilities of working women. Well-known members include apparel executive Linda Wachner, the newspaper industry's Cathleen P. Black, television executive Lucille Salhany and retail executive Lillian Vernon.

Most recently, Texas Executive Women chose Ivers as one of Houston's ten most talented women for her significant career and community service achievements in Houston. Cited as an outstanding role model, Ivers was chosen for excelling in her profession and contributing time to worthwhile endeavors. Her community service ranges from chairing fundraisers, such as the 1997 Columbia Women's Hospital Run for Your Life 5K Classic, to serving on the board of the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Houston, Houston Area Women's Center, Mental Health Association, Friends of the Lower Colorado River Foundation and Greater Houston Convention and Visitors Bureau.

While residing in the Buffalo area, Ivers served on the Daemen College Alumni Board. "Daemen provided an excellent educational environment with high quality professors...Dr. Cuddy, Dr. Starkey, Sister Jeanne File and Sister Georgia Duunn to name a few. I was influenced by what they taught and by their character. Looking back, it was very wonderful liberal arts education."

Ivers says that her undergraduate education at Daemen gave her "an appreciation for community service". The history and government degree continues to be useful to Ivers today, providing insight into national, state and local governments. In her position at BFI, Ivers frequently interacts with the governments of the state of Texas and the city of Houston. Her well-rounded liberal arts education has been praised by BFI management as a fine one.

The highlight of Ivers years at Rosary Hill/Daemen was her junior year abroad at Wroxton College in England. "It was one of the finest years of my life, a marvelous experience", comments Ivers. So much so, that three years ago, Ivers organized a reunion and revisited Wroxton with ten alumna. The group stayed at the college with their families. "It was a great reunion and I'm so glad that Daemen provided the initial opportunity."

Elizabeth Ivers poses for a family portrait with husband, Joe, and daughter Marybeth.

Just before this profile went to press, BFI promoted Ivers again, this time to Vice President, Investor Relations. Congratulations, Liz!

SUSAN N. WHITCOMB BEAHAN '75 "A TALENT FOR HELPING PEOPLE"

by Carla F. Sandbothe

Susan Whitcomb Beahan '75 is in the stress reduction business. The videotapes produced by her company, STB Productions, were recently featured on NBC's Today Show and have received accolades from activity professionals and caregivers in a wide range of health care settings. Although very grateful for this type of recognition, Beahan says that the most satisfying result of her work has been to genuinely help thousands of people.

As president of STB Productions, Beahan has produced a variety of tapes, from clinically-proven stress reduction videos to pure relaxation and ambience to "you are there" visits to special events. The tapes at first focused on the narrow market of Alzheimer's patients, but Beahan has found that people who suffer from dementia, chronic pain and caregiver isolation benefit too. Says Beahan, "Our line of videos is highly recommended for use with all stages of Alzheimer's disease, and our tapes are used in cancer pain management courses, on in-house cable in hospitals from coast to coast, in nursing homes, hospices, senior centers, long-term and special care units and private homes all across the United States and Canada".

ALUMNI PROFILES

Beahan's tapes include images of colorful gardens; autumn on Cape Cod; Martha's Vineyard (she received a thank you note from President Clinton for sending him this tape, featuring his favorite vacation spot); and winter at Niagara Falls, with its brilliant ice crystal rainbows and unearthly ice formations. Other tapes transport the viewer to the zoo, country fair and seashore; most feature music without narration so as not to interrupt the viewer's personal thoughts and recollections. One of Beahan's newest tapes is an exception, however, inviting the viewer to sing along with old favorites such as "You Are My Sunshine" and "A Bicycle Built for Two".

Beahan began school at Rosary Hill as an English major, but after one of Dr. Ruth Stratton's courses, she changed her major to history and government. In the fall of 1972, Beahan was appointed College Youth Campaign Coordinator of Jack Kemp's first congressional re-election campaign. The next year she began and circulated a petition to have Representative Kemp elected to the College Board of Trustees, which culminated in his board membership for the next ten years.

In 1974, Beahan became the first Rosary Hill/Daemen student to intern full-time in the House of Representatives on Capital Hill, and was praised by Representative Kemp as one of the finest interns his office ever had. Her time in Washington gave her invaluable work and life experience, allowing her to meet and become friends with such D.C. luminaries as Dan Susan Beahan '75, and her children Benna, 14, and Toby, 18, with her friend of 24 years, CBS News Anchor Dan Rather, at Daemen September 28, 1997.

Rather, White House reporter, CBS News and Senator Trent Lott, now Senate Majority Leader, among others.

Following the internship, Beahan worked full-time in Kemp's District Office in Buffalo, in addition to taking a full senior year of courses as an independent study. Her senior thesis, on the Articles of Impeachment of Richard Nixon, was written after having personally sat in on the House Judiciary hearings on impeachment. In February of '75, Beahan was appointed head caseworker and officially named District Liaison in Representative Kemp's Buffalo office. That June, Beahan graduated with a B.A. in History and Government, and was inducted into Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Beahan credits Dr. Stratton with inspiring her to pursue her history and government degree and with "doing everything she could to help me... from arranging the Washington internship to paving the way for me to work full-time while completing my senior year courses." Beahan also remembers Dr. Starkey and Dr. Cuddy, the advisor for her thesis.

"I focus on the Washington experience when I remember my college days, but one of my favorite memories of school is playing ping pong freshman year. Administrators, professors and students would go to Wick and play ping pong together after lunch. Mr. DeCarli from the math department, Dr. Zielonka from education and English professor Peter Siedlecki often played. Of the students, I most remember Tom Stewart and Cecil Stepp."

It was the history and government experience, and working on such diverse constituent cases as Vietnamese orphan adoptions, missing persons in foreign countries, and Social Security Retirement and Disability entitlements when she was a Congressional caseworker that led Beahan to create STB productions with her brother Jim Whitcomb, a videographer. The company was founded in 1989 after Beahan had happily taken time off to be a full-time mom to her children Toby and Benna, now ages 18 and 14. In forming the company, Beahan's goal was to bring her talent for helping people and her brother's talent as a videographer, photographer, and editor together to improve the quality of life for elderly people in nursing homes.

"STB began with one video and a completely new and untested idea of using nature/stress reduction videos with nursing home patients. In 1998," reports Beahan, "we have 12 titles in our catalog and have become the most highly praised, respected and recommended producer of stress reduction video for the health care industry in the U.S. and Canada." Beahan's line of videos, "The Timeless Memories Video Collection," is sold in over two dozen of the leading health care catalogs in the country. The tapes have appeared in such well-known publications as Publishers Clearing House, the Public Broadcasting System catalogs, Wireless and Wireless Audio, as well as in Starcrest of California, Joan Cook, and on the home shopping channel Q-2. Beahan's work in this area has earned her recognition in Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the World, and Who's Who in Entertainment.

Beahan offers a discount on her videos to alumni of Rosary Hill/Daemen College. You can get a catalog listing by calling Beahan at (716)626-5319 or by locating STB Production on the Internet. The homepage address is :

CLASS OF 1960

Anne Marie (Mickey) McGarry Slind wrote this brief biography to share with her classmates at our '97 Reunion: "When I left Rosary Hill College in 1960, I earned an MA in History, married and was a stay-at-home mom for 20 years. During this time, I lost my husband and after a twenty year hiatus, I returned to work as the Associate Director of International Studies Center at Hamline University. I learned the profession of "study abroad" and rose through the ranks to my current position as Assistant Director, Institute for Study Abroad, Butler University, Indianapolis, M. In my job, I visit over 100 institutions in 11 western states and make at least one overseas trip annually."

In 1995, Mickey was given the Lily vonKlemperer award by SECUSSA and NAFSA. She noted "I could never have accomplished any of this had it not been for the tremendous education I received at Rosary Hill College."

"In 1993, I married a history professor from Washington State University. We live in a small university town in the west. A life of contentment and joy."
